NOBLE COUNTY, INDIANA
VOLUME III

ALBION, ELKHART, & PERRY TOWNSHIPS

COMPILED BY

NOBLE COUNTY
GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, INC.

PRINTED BY MODERN PRINTING CO., 1987
KENDALLVILLE, INDIANA 46755

FORWARD

The information and records contained in this publication, and other volumes which we published were gathered by members of the Noble County Genealogical Society, Inc. in the summers of 1980-1983 in a grave-to-grave inventory of all known burial grounds in Noble County.

A diligent effort was made to record the images and lettering as seen on the various grave markers, but the Society admits the possibility of errors and misinterpretations that may have been inadvertently made.

Noble County was organized in 1836 and burials before that date are indeed rare, if at all in existance.

Copies of this publication may be secured while the supply lasts at $25.00 each at the Society's address, 109 N. York St., Albion, Indiana 46701 or by U.S. mail for $26.00.

The entire cemetery records are in four volumes as follows:

- Vol. I - Noble, Sparta, Washington & York Townships.
- Vol. II - Orange and Wayne Townships.
- Vol. III - Albion, Elkhart, and Perry Townships.
- Vol. IV - Allen, Green, Jefferson, and Swan Townships.

We apologize for any errors and omissions in this membership list. We are also extremely grateful for all the work that our members have contributed for the good of our Society and for the good of Noble County. We appreciate good records when we visit other counties and thus are attempting to provide good records for Noble County. It is work and it does take time, but well worth the trouble.

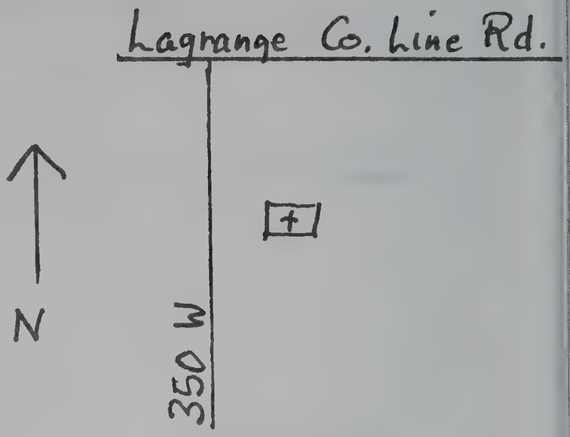
LOWER (LAUER) CEMETERY

The Lower (Lauer) cemetery is a small family cemetery in Elkhart Township, Sec. 4, southeast quarter. It lies about 200 ft. east of Co. Rd. 350 W, 3/4 mi. south of the Lagrange Co. line. It consists of eight graves in two rows. Row I at the west end contains 5 graves. Row II at the east end contains three. In between is an empty area of rough terrain. The plot is mowed occasionally, and shrubbery has been planted. Field stones and brush from nearby fields have been piled here and there. A fence surrounds the area, and massive, pillar-type posts have been erected in all four corners. The cemetery is about 25 X 50 ft. in circumference.



Row I a, at west end (headstones):

Lower, Fred Ray, son of Jacob N. and Mary E. Lower, died Feb. 15, 1886, aged 6m15d.

Lower, Mary E., wife of Jacob N. Lower, died Sept. 1, 1886, ae 24y23d. An epitaph reads, "She was kind and affectionate and often (?) mother and friend to all."

Lower, Margaret, wife of Jacob N. Lower, died Oct. 17, 1879, ae 51 (or 31?)y 1m18d.

Lower, Jacob N., 1842-1924.

Lower, Harley T., 1882-1972.

Row I b, at west end (footstones):

[Lower,] F.R.L. (footstone for Fred Ray Lower).

[Lower,] M.E.L. (footstone for Mary E. Lower).

[Lower,] (footstone for Margaret Lower, no discernible lettering).

[Lower,] J.L. (footstone for Jacob N. Lower).

Lower, Harley T., 1882-1972, Williams Funeral Home, (mortuary-style metal marker used as a footstone).

Row II, at east end

Large family stone with letter L engraved:

LAUER, Daniel, died Dec. 4, 1897, ae 82y8m8d.

LAUER, Abagail, wife of Daniel Lauer, died Nov. 1, 1849, ae 34y10m9d.

RICE CEMETERY

Elkhart Twp.

MAYBE KNOWN AS BROTHWELL CEMETERY

Located south of Co. Line 1200N on 150W. At first sharp left turn in road, there is a set of bldgs. Cemetery lies about 200 ft. east of bldgs in a field. This is in Section 2 of the Twp. and is on the Cecil Smith farm. It was the John F. Brothwell farm in 1860.
There are hardly any stones left standing therefore very difficult to place them in the correct order.

DRAIN, Robert s/o Richard & Rebecca d Feb 19, 1875 ae1y12d (this stone might possibly be the one listed in row 16 that is illegible)

FRANCISCO, infant of U&A no dates

SCHLOTTERBACK CEMETERY

Located in Perry Township, Section 33, on the Perry and Sparta Township line. U.S. 33, 2 mile south of Ligonier, west on 550N to 950W (950W was the Fort Wayne-Goshen Road in early years), north on 950W a short distance to sharp curve. A short distance south of this curve stands a large oak tree in a field. As of August 26, 1982, there remains ½ of a stone leaned against this tree. It reads:

died June 8, 1844 aged 72 years

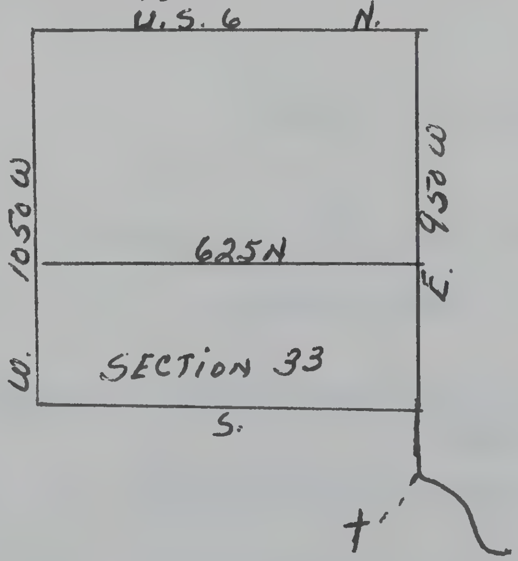
In the 1930's the Daughters of the American Revolution reported that at one time about a dozen tombstones were here, but all that remains under a tree in a pasture field were the three they recorded:

DUNGAN, Elenor w/o Isaiah d Jun 8, 1844 ae72y

DUNGAN, David W s/o DJ & M d Mar 23, 1852 ae1y6m

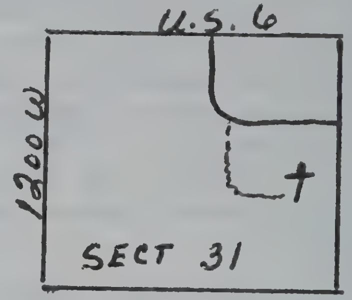
DUNGAN, Pierce infant s/o DJ & M d Aug 31, 1853

NOTE: It might be questionable whether this cemetery is in Perry or Sparta Township. The 1874 Atlas shows it in Perry; however, it is my belief that since it lays south of Road 950W it could be in Sparta Township.



SHOBE CEMETERY

Location: 2½ miles west of the intersection of US6 & US33 on US 6, turn south on gravel road (no number) ¼ mile to curve in road. Cemetery lies ½ mile back a lane to the south (accessible by foot only) in NE ¼ of Section 31. At one time the Fort Wayne-Goshen Road ran through the farm near the cemetery



Recorded in August, 1982

SPRINGHILL OR GROWCOCK CEMETERY

In the 1874 atlas there shows a cemetery in the southernmost part of section 7 on the Growcock farm.

In October 1982 I checked with the owner of this land now and learned that in section 18 there still stands the old Spring Hill Church. In reality that is just what it is. The hill where the church stands is full of springs, therefore not suitable for burying. The cemetery was put about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile north and west of the church on the Growcock farm.

The gentleman who owns the land now says he has never seen a tombstone anywhere on the land, but had heard that many years ago a man in that area had built a bank barn and had used tombstones to fill in the bank/

The 1874 atlas is the only mention ever made of this cemetery.
